

A Prayer to Be Woven into God's Purpose

O God, you are like a weaver-woman in our lives. Out of the energy of the universe you have spun each one of us into a unique, colorful strand with our own special hue and texture, and have woven us together into your human family that blankets the globe. We admit that our own choices sometimes sever us from your loom of life and tear the human fabric you are weaving.

O weaver-woman God, open my eyes to the mystery and power of your Spirit. Refresh me with the light of your vision so that I may once again recognize the beauty and wonder of the specially spun thread that I am and the splendor of the one colorful cloth of humanity. Re-weave me into the fabric of your loom so that your vision may become clearer in me, as in all.

In the name of the Christ, the one who was at one with all of life, Amen.

(from United Church of Christ, Worship Ways)